Being a professional magician who works all over the country, I have two things that annoy me. The price of petrol and the congestion charge. Militec-1 doesn't seem to have done anything for the congestion charge except make it go up from £5 to £8.

But the other monkey seems to be a lot better, I go to Blackpool at least four times a year for Magic Conventions. I used find I had under a ¼ tank when I got there, now with Militec I get to Blackpool and have over a ¼ tank left.

Result for me as I can now treat myself to an extra Burger and Coke at Blackpool.

Militec really works!
